5 Cover Story

Stacey Driver has been nicknamed the Ricochet Rabbit because he runs like the famous cartoon character. Jill Mixon takes a look at Driver's career at Clemson and his chase up the Clemson career rushing ladder.

7 National Champions

Last fall the Clemson soccer team made an incredible run to its first NCAA championship. Can they repeat in 1985? David Webb examines the team's chances at another title.

50 Bobby Robinson

Clemson's new athletic director came on the scene in his current position last March, but he has been on the Clemson scene for many years. In this question and answer format Robinson states some of his theories on athletics and the future of the Clemson athletic department.

61 University Feature

So you know everything about Clemson football, and then some about Clemson sports in general. How about everything about the University in general. Margaret Lamb has her own Tiger Trivial Pursuit game on this page.

73 Jeff Lytton

In the last eight years of football teams Jeff Lytton has played on have a combined record of 83-7-1. He has been fortunate to learn his gridiron basics from two of the more well known mentors in the country. Kassie Kessinger reviews Lytton's career.

77 This Day in Tiger Football

Another season is in full swing and the Tigers are taking on one of their top rivals today. Clemson has had some exciting contests on this day in history as Foster Senn reveals.

79 The Other Bruise Brother

William DeVane spent most of his four years bruising enemy centers. Now he spends most of his time teaching youngsters the basics of reading and writing. Tim Bourret and Margaret Lamb update us on DeVane's pursuit of a dual career.

Today's Game

By Tim Bourret

Two of the top five programs in America over the last four years will do battle this afternoon as Georgia faces Clemson in Death Valley. Between 1981 and 1984 the Tigers posted a 37-6-2 mark for a .844 winning percentage, the fourth best percentage in college football for that time period. The fifth-place team is just 90 miles down the road, Georgia, with a record of 38-8-2 for a .815 winning percentage. Both teams have won the National Championship in the last five years. With the appearance of CBS-TV at the stadium today for a national broadcast (the first home national broadcast in Clemson history), it is apparent that two of the nation's premier programs will be on display.

Both clubs are coming off three-point victories, triumphs that were necessary for both coaches. Clemson ended a two-game losing streak with a 20-17 win over Virginia Tech and Georgia ended a streak of five games without a win with a 17-14 victory over Baylor.

Chances are today's game will also be decided by a margin of three points or less because that has been the case in recent years. Since Danny Ford has been the head coach in this game for Clemson (six years), Clemson has scored 87 points and Georgia has scored 85 points. Now that is close!

The contemporary era of the series has been fascinating. In 1977 Clemson won at Athens for the first time since World War I. In 1978 Georgia handed Clemson its only loss of the season as the Bulldogs shut out a Clemson team that had six first-round draft choices on it. In 1979 Clemson won at Death Valley behind an equally strong defense, and in 1980 Clemson outgained the Dogs by nearly 200 yards, yet lost 20-16. In 1981 Clemson handed Herschel Walker his only regular season defeat in a Georgia uniform and Clemson went on to the National Championship. In 1982 Georgia won a defensive struggle on national television 13-7, and in 1983 the two teams played to a titanic 16-16 tie. Last year Kevin Butler's 60-yard field goal with 11 seconds left gave Georgia a breath-taking win.

While the contests have developed this into one of the country's top intra-sectional rivalries there have been two constants statistically. It is apparent that gaining large chunks of yardage is not important, but committing the fewer number of turnovers is the most pivotal statistic. How about this for a stat: In seven of the last eight years the team with the higher total offense figure in the Georgia-Clemson series has not won the game. However, over the last eight years the team that has committed the fewer number of turnovers has never lost the game. Here's a grid to prove the point.

Year	Total Offense		Turnovers		Winner of Game
	GA	CU	GA	CU
1977	281	236	4	1	CU, 7-6
1978	287	293	1	6	GA, 12-0
1979	247	359	3	3	CU, 12-7
1980	157	351	2	4	GA, 20-16
1981	255	236	9	3	CU, 13-3
1982	241	249	2	4	GA, 13-7
1983	346	240	3	2	Tie, 16-16
1984	282	356	3	7	GA, 26-23

While the series has been fairly even in recent years, Clemson still has not beaten Georgia since 1981. On the other hand, Georgia has not won at Clemson since 1976.

Many of the players for both teams have not had a lot to do with the outcomes of the contests in recent years. Clemson took 30 players to Virginia Tech who had never played in a college football game before, and Georgia has only 11 seniors among its top 44 players on offense and defense.

Clemson's young club got off to a good start last week with a finish that could become the subject of an Alcoa Fantastic Finish. David Treadwell is a walk-on who came to Clemson because of the school's outstanding reputation in the field of engineering. The third-year electrical engineering major had never kicked in college, high school, Pee Wee or any kind of organized football game before. All he did was kick a 36-yard field goal with no time showing on the clock to give Clemson a 20-17 win at Virginia Tech.

"If I knew Treadwell had never played high school football I don't know if I would have let him go out there," said Danny Ford this past Sunday when he read in the newspaper that Treadwell had not even played high school football. "He has been our most consistent kicker and this is why we went with him. He doesn't have the strongest leg, but he is accurate."

Treadwell, a perfect candidate for an American Express commercial, played high school soccer in Jacksonville, FL and never put on a football uniform. "When I got in to Clemson I had a friend of the family call Coach (Chuck) Reedy at Clemson about walking on for the football team. My dad had convinced me to try kicking a football if I was not going to get a soccer scholarship to a school that had a good engineering program. So, I started working out kicking a football the spring after my senior year of soccer and when I came to Clemson coach Reedy told me to come out as a kicker."

There were other first-time stars for the Tigers last Saturday in picturesque Blacksburg, VA. Quarterback Randy Anderson hit 17 of 30 passes for 220 yards, including 102 in the fourth quarter, as he showed fine leadership in taking Clemson to 17 fourth-quarter points. In the offensive line red-shirt freshman Frank Deluliis did a fine job in his first outing and wide receiver Keith Jennings made a clutch third-down catch.

On defense, first time starter Perry Williams had a Clemson single-game record five passes broken up from his cornerback position and free safety A.J. Johnson led the team in tackles with 14. Richard McCullough and Brian Raber, a red-shirted freshman and a first-time middle guard starter, respectively, both came on to have solid outings in the second half.

Both Clemson and Georgia are balanced when it comes to the use of runningbacks. Five Georgia ball carriers had 48 yards or more against Baylor last week as the Dogs had 276 yards on the ground. David McCluskey is the leading rusher entering the contest with 72 yards in 15 carries. The top rusher against Baylor was wide receiver Fred Lane who had two carries for 68 yards on end-around plays, one went for a touchdown.

Tron Jackson, a native of Liberty, SC, has the top average on the team with a 4.9 figure on 13 carries and freshman tailback Tim Worley has 61 yards in 13 carries and a touchdown. Lars Tate has started a pair of games and has 40 yards in 15 carries.

Wayne Johnson has been the Georgia quarterback much of the time thus far this season. He was a ringleader of the offensive comeback against Alabama as he hit 8-13 passes for 82 yards, many of which came on a drive to a tying touchdown. James Jackson, the star of Georgia's tie with Florida State in the Citrus Bowl last season, is the backup quarterback and forces Danny Ford to prepare for two types of signal callers. Johnson is a drop back passer, while Jackson is a sprintout thrower.

Jimmy Hockaday and Herman Archie seemingly have been at Georgia since they named Sanford Stadium, but they are still on the team as starting wide receivers. Hockaday is the leading receiver with four catches for 67 yards, while Archie riddled the Clemson secondary two years ago in Death Valley with seven catches for 85 yards.

Defensively, Georgia is a very strong club. The Dogs have allowed the enemy only 2.5 yards per rush and they were especially effective in this area against Alabama on Labor Day. Like the offense, there is no one superstar of the Bulldog defense. Last week, however, defensive end Greg Waters had three quarterback sacks to rank up there with players of star quality, and Mike Willis had nine tackles and three pass deflections from his cornerback position.

The surprise of the defense has been Henry Williams, a 234-pound defensive tackle who intercepted a "Utah" (shovel type) pass against Baylor last Saturday. John Little, the starting roverback, had 20 tackles against Alabama and is the leading hitter on the squad coming into the game.

This is truly a big day for both teams, but it has a little more meaning for the Tigers (I can write that, its Clemson's football program you are reading) because the Tigers are making their first live TV appearance in two seasons. It is also important for Clemson to get over the second-game hump. The Tigers have been 2-0 only four times in the last 20 years and Clemson is only 5-14-1 in the second game of the year the last 20 seasons. And, in general a victory over Georgia would give the young Clemson team confidence as it strives to return to the post-season bowl picture.

Ricochet Rabbit

By Jill Mixon

"Eh, 'What's up Doc?'" and "Beep! Beep!" are phrases that have dominated Saturday morning cartoons for over 25 years. Bugs Bunny and the Road Runner have been popular ever since Bugs first outwitted Elmer Fudd and the Road Runner escaped from the clutches of Wyle E. Coyote.

But, Bugs Bunny has not been the only cartoon rabbit to achieve Saturday morning notoriety. The Ricochet Rabbit, a forerunner to the Warner Brothers' giants, combined the attributes of both Bugs Bunny and the Road Runner. Mischievous and cantankerous like Bugs and fast as the wind like the Road Runner, the Ricochet Rabbit outwitted his adversaries and would "ricochet" away. "Bing . . . Bing . . . Bing . . . It's the Ricochet Rabbit."

"The first time I saw Stacey Driver play football for Clemson, I immediately remembered the Ricochet Rabbit cartoon," recalled Clint Bryant, former Clemson assistant basketball coach. "When Driver carries the ball he takes off like a lightening bolt, and when he does get hit he just ricochets off the defender. He just bounces all over the football field," said Bryant.

Little did Clint Bryant know that when he referred to Driver as the Ricochet Rabbit in the sports information office one afternoon that the name would stick. Associate SID Tim Bourret, who doubles as the color commentator for the Tiger Radio Network, brought the nickname to the attention of Jim Phillips during a 1983 game. Phillips immediately started calling Driver by the nickname and it has not stopped.

But, as Shakespeare once said, "... What is in a name? ..." Driver, a senior from Griffin, GA, is relatively indifferent to the nickname. "Most of the guys just call me Screwdriver because of my last name, but the Ricochet Rabbit is fine too. I'll answer to either one of them," remarked Driver.

At 5-8, 180-pounds, Driver is the smallest tailback in terms of height for the Tigers since Warren Ratchford carried the ball in 1978. But, according to running back coach Chuck Reedy, size is not a determinant when it comes to Driver. "Before Driver came here I had always thought that size was a big factor. But, as far as I am concerned he has proven that his size should not be a consideration. He has also shown that a guy who is not real big can play well," related Reedy.

Driver is another individual who believes that his size has not been a deterrent in the advancement of this career. "I don't fear any opponent, except maybe one, but he really wasn't an opponent. He was a teammate. And, anybody would be scared to go against William Perry. I feel very prepared when I go into a game, because I know that I have had to work against one of the nation's top defenses in practice all week. So, I just go out there and do my thing when it comes to game time," offered Driver.

Because of Driver's hard work in practice over the past three seasons, he has attained several achievements. In 1984, he led the team in rushing with 627 yards and needs only 511 yards to become the eighth back in Clemson history to surpass the 2000-yard mark. During his career Driver has averaged 4.8 yards per carry and accumulated 13 total touchdowns. With the 1985 season still ahead of him, he already ranks in the top 25 in the Clemson record book in career scoring.

But, with all the TDs Driver has been involved in the one he is most proud of did not register six points in his personal column. Against Duke last season on the Tigers' first possession, Driver threw a 30-yard touchdown strike to Terrance Roulhac off of the half-back option. "It was my most thrilling moment on the football field. I have always been used to just running the ball, so I was pretty excited when Mike (Eppley) called the play. I just threw it out there and Roulhac just ran under it and took it into the endzone. I never thought that my very first collegiate pass would go all the way for a TD," said Driver.

Versatility has been a key for Driver during his Tiger tenure. He is the only active player on the 1985 squad who has run the ball, caught the ball, returned a kickoff, and thrown a pass. Driver explained. "I like to have all those options available to me. I hope we use the halfback option more this year. But, being a tailback and running the ball is still my favorite."

Since the fall of 1981, Driver has been involved in a real horse race for the starting tailback job. That fall the Tigers signed five highly regarded freshmen tailbacks. David Barnett, Driver, Terrence Flagler, Kenny Flowers, and Steve Griffin all arrived in Tigertown to vie for the tailback position and Clemson already had veterans Chuck McSwain, Kevin Mack and Cliff Austin on the team. Reedy remembered the battle that took place. "It was a tough situation early, because they all felt they were good enough to play, and they all wanted to play right off.

"As a rookie Driver was probably the most mature and the closest to being ready to play early in the season. That is one reason why we didn't red-shirt him to start off. Out of the five Driver has been able to stay healthy which has been a real plus for us. Because of injuries we had to red-shirt a few of the tailbacks, while we moved some to other positions."

Several factors influenced Driver's decision to attend Clemson. "First of all my cousin Willie Jordan played here during the 70's, and I had come to see him play a few times when I was in high school. Secondly, Georgia had Herschel Walker. Clemson seemed to be the logical choice. It was close to home, and I was really impressed with the coaching staff," told Driver.

Stacey Driver has used the basics his coaches at Clemson have taught him, but it is evident he has a lot more going for him. He has combined the determination of Wyle E. Coyote with the running style of the Ricochet Rabbit to strike fear in opponent coaches as if he was the Incredible Hulk.

Defending National Champions

By David Webb

Clemson Soccer Coach Dr. I.M. Ibrahim finds himself in a position he has never been in before. As of December 16, 1984, Ibrahim and the rest of Clemson University's soccer team left the ranks of the hunters and climbed to the solo position of the hunted. For on December 16, 1984, the Tigers defeated two-time defending champ Indiana by a 2-1 score to claim the school's first national title in soccer.

The incredible thing about the championship was the way the Tigers won it. The team did not have an abundance of foreign talent, a hallmark of Clemson teams of the past. Furthermore, the Tigers had to play the top four ranked teams in the nation to claim their prize. But, when the turf had been flattened in Seattle, Clemson was sporting the crown.

But, with all the glamour that accompanies a national championship, there also comes the pressure to defend the title. Dr. Ibrahim concedes that Clemson can not realistically be considered a shoe-in or even a leading candidate to win the title again since Clemson has lost seven seniors, including some of the team's best defenders like Adubarie Otorubio and Charlie Morgan. Furthermore, Clemson continues its recent trend of challenging a very difficult, national schedule.

However, the Clemson coach had a productive recruiting season, bringing in a number of players who should be able to contribute by mid-season at the latest. Shawn Cartmill returns in the goal with the experience he gained under the pressures of last year's playoff. Furthermore, Gary Conner, Eric Eichmann and Bruce Murray will be back to lead the Tigers' scoring attack. And the defense is not totally depleted; Paul Rutenis and Bill Fortner are back for another year of waylaying threatening opponents.

The Clemson coach concluded, "There won't be any easy games this year. Our games will probably be decided by one goal or two. If the breaks fall our way, we should be successful; if they don't, it could be another story."

In 1984, Shawn Cartmill had just 423 minutes of playing time; however, the majority of that time came under the extreme pressures of the NCAA tournament. He came through for the Tigers in 1984, allowing just three goals, one of which was scored on a penalty kick. Can he do it in 1985 as Clemson's top goalkeeper?

The Clemson backfield will not have the friendly faces of three-time All-American Adubarie Otorubio and Charlie Morgan this year, but neither will it be lacking for experienced players. Coach Ibrahim has made some position changes, moving members from last season's midfield into the backfield.

Paul Rutenis and Bill Fortner should maintain their starting positions in the backfield, and could be joined by former midfielders Dick Landgren and Paul Carollo. Rutenis and Fortner had strong performances in the backfield last year, as did Landgren, who scored eight goals and set up five assists, in midfield. Also playing in the backfield for the Tigers in 1985 will be Bernard Gray (one goal, two assists), who has seen action at the striker and midfield positions.

In addition to these seasoned players, Coach Ibrahim hopes to reap the benefits of his recruiting efforts with backs Paul Pettus and Clif Onalfo, who may also see some playing time in the midfield.

There are bright spots in Clemson's midfield. Eric Eichmann, a two-time All-ACC player, will be back to anchor the middle area of alignment. Furthermore, Ibrahim may pull Bruce Murray back to play beside Eichmann from time to time. Dick Landgren may also see some playing time in his old midfield position should the backfield be secure without his presence. Pete Stebbins also returns to finish his career. Stebbins scored 17 total points on five goals and seven assists last season, tying Maxwell Amatasiro for sixth on the club.

Although the midfield is Clemson's critical area, Coach Ibrahim has brought in some players who should be capable of making an impact by midseason. Clif Onalfo may play in either the backfield or the midfield. Onalfo comes from Ridgefield, CT, where he was named All-New England. J.R. Fenton also joins the Tigers after having played for two years at Miami Dade South Community College.

The "Conner-Murray Show" is back in 1985 to lead the striker position. This duo accounted for 32 of Clemson's 84 goals in '84, including the only goal in the Tigers' 1-0 triumph over Virginia in the NCAA quarterfinals. Gary Conner led Clemson in total points and goals scored in 1984 with 46 points and 19 goals. These figures finished second in the ACC in each respective category. Bruce Murray led Clemson and the ACC in assists, helping on 15 goals last year while scoring 13 times as well. Murray was selected second-team All-ACC and the National Rookie-of-the-Year in 1984 for his efforts.

There is a possibility that Coach Ibrahim may play Murray in the midfield. Should that happen, Eichmann may come up, or Ibrahim may turn to one of his recruits to round out Clemson's scoring punch. Oliver Kacurov has the ability to play at striker in addition to midfield. Furthermore, two more freshmen have the credentials to play up front. Scott Prendergast comes from Vienna, VA as a reserve striker while Matt Regnier joins the squad as Clemson's first-ever player from Clemson, SC. Regnier set several state records while playing for former Clemson great Andy Demori.

Clemson will face a difficult schedule in 1985 as it attempts to defend the National Championship.

Victory Peal Symbolic of Clemson's Progress

If the Tigers win the game today, listen for the Victory Peal resounding over the campus in celebration.

In June, the first six bells of a proposed 47-bell carillon were installed in Tillman Tower, where they chime the hour and play the Victory Peal, the first four notes of the Westminster Chime.

The peal, which will ring at graduation and other campus celebrations, is symbolic of the progress Clemson University has made in the past year. For example:

- Students, faculty and staff found a new best friend with LUIS, a computerized library system that allows them to check the status of library holdings from anywhere on campus.
- After a successful fund raiser in Washington, D.C., groundbreaking ceremonies from the Strom Thurmond Institute were set for fall 1985, with Vice President George Bush scheduled to attend.
- With the addition of two new microscopes, Clemson's $1.6 million electron microscope lab became one of the best of its kind in the country, allowing users to magnify images more than 300,000 times.
- In competition with 152 other college units from across the country, the Air Force ROTC detachment marched away with the No. 1 ranking in the nation.
- Helene M. Riley became the first female department head at Clemson when she was named head of the department of languages.
- The South Carolina Agricultural Experiment Station dedicated its new $4 million Pee Dee Research and Education Center near Florence, and construction began on the new $9.5 million chemistry building behind Sirrine Hall.
- Under a program approved by the state Commission on Higher Education, Clemson became the only institution in the state to offer a Ph.D. in computer engineering.
- In May, the university conferred 1,492 degrees — including the first Ph.D. in forestry — to the largest graduating class in Clemson's history.

University President

This has been a special year in the life of Walter Cox. Fifty years ago he enrolled at Clemson as a freshman after graduating from Belton (SC) High School. It is fitting that in his golden jubilee academic year with the University that he has become interim president of Clemson University.

Cox has served Clemson over the last five decades in a number of capacities on the academic side and the athletic side of life, and Clemson has become a lot better place because of his presence. Cox received his bachelor of science degree in June of 1939, then remained for another year to pursue graduate work. In February of 1940 he began his association with the University as a full-time employee as he became a line coach on Frank Howard's first team. He held the assistant coaching position until 1950. During this period he also served as the head baseball coach and as athletic ticket manager.

Cox gained his knowledge on the gridiron from Jess Neely and Frank Howard, two Hall of Fame Head Coaches. Cox played on the Clemson varsity football team between 1937 and 1939 and was an all-state selection in 1939. He was a member of Clemson's first bowl team, an eleven that downed Boston College in the 1940 Cotton Bowl. Cox earned three letters in football and the team had a 20-6-2 record during his career.

In 1942 Cox was called into the Armed Forces and served with the rank of lieutenant in the Fiji Islands, New Caledonia and Guadalcanal with the 147th infantry Regiment of the 37th Division.

In 1950 Cox moved on to the other side of campus as he brought his excellent administrative dexterity and knowledge to university administration. Between 1950 and 1955 he served as Director of Public Relations and Alumni Affairs and as an assistant to the vice president.

In 1955 he moved up to the position of Vice President for Student Affairs and Dean of Students, a position he had held the last 30 years until his most recent appointment on July 2. He has had a stellar career as University Vice President and has directed many programs that have benefited the overall quality of life at Clemson University.

During his three decades as Clemson's first vice president for student affairs and dean of students, Walter Cox guided the campus through a population explosion from 2,700 students in 1955 to more than 12,500 today, a span of years that includes such milestones in the University's development as the enrollment of women and the peaceful desegregation of the institution. Under his leadership the programs and functions of the student affairs division have steadily expanded and improved to meet the changing and increasing needs of this dynamic student body.

Through the offices and departments of admissions and registration, student life, student health services, the University Union, housing, intramurals, intercollegiate athletics, bands, student financial aid, counseling and career services, university canteens, and the bookstore, the student affairs division that Cox has assembled performs essential student services to support and complement Clemson's academic mission. It provides students with special opportunities for intellectual, moral, cultural, spiritual and physical growth.

The success of the comprehensive and progressive approach Cox took as vice president for student affairs is evident in such services as the Counseling and Career Planning Center, which provides individual counseling and group programs on topics ranging from academic and personal concerns to time management and assertiveness training; the University Union, through which students devise, produce and participate in more than 800 varied activities each year; and Fike Recreation Center, a half-million-dollar complex of modern intramural sports and physical training facilities.

Walter Cox has an illustrious and honored history at Clemson University. He is one of only a handful of graduates to be selected to the Clemson Athletic Hall of Fame and to also win the Clemson Medallion (1984) and the Distinguished Alumni Award (1963). He has truly run out of awards to win, but he still has the motivation to climb more mountains as an active university president. After 50 years of serving a university, most alumni retire to private life. Not Walter Cox, he serves his university from the highest level.

Walter Cox has served Clemson for 50 years.

Athletic Director Bobby Robinson

Few Athletic Directors in the country have moved up the ladder as fast as Bobby Robinson. This past March the 39-year-old native of Columbia culminated a 12-year steady progression up the administrative steps to the position of Clemson Athletic Director. He succeeded Bill McLellan on Friday, March 8, 1985.

Robinson came to Clemson in 1970, not in athletics, but in the housing office. After three years he moved across campus to serve as an administrative assistant in the athletic department. "I started at Clemson in the housing office, but I came to Clemson to work in athletics," said Robinson. "No opening existed at the time so I had to wait until one opened up."

After serving the athletic department in every imaginable manner, he became business manager in 1975. Two years later he was named assistant athletic director and in 1980 he became associate AD. He held that title four years, but his responsibility moved to an area of strength in regard to the football and basketball programs in 1982.

While serving his administrative duties with vigor, he also coached the Clemson golf team between 1975 and 1983. During his time as the head coach Clemson won its only ACC title in golf and three times the Tigers participated in the NCAA tournament. In 1983, his final season as the head coach, he guided Clemson to a number-five national finish. Clarence Rose was one of three All-Americans to play for the Tigers during his tenure. Rose is now a successful member of the pro tour.

Thus, it is easy to see why Bobby Robinson is most qualified for the position of athletic director at Clemson University—he has done it all. He has been an administrator at all levels, he has worked in other areas in the University, he has been a head coach and he has handled the budgetary aspects needed to run an 8.5 million dollar program.

Robinson has done everything in the Clemson athletic department, but he concedes there is a big change between associate athletic director and athletic director. "I no longer can just look at what we could do in a situation, it has changed to 'what will we do'. The area of facilities is something I will be more involved in also. We have some of the best facilities in the nation and we want to continue to rank favorably in that area." Robinson already has formulated a 10-year plan for facilities as he has a keen interest in all sports at Clemson. Changes in the soccer facility and tennis facility are planned for the next few years.

All of these factors have allowed him to come to grips with what is necessary to be a leader of a national program such as the one at Clemson. "Our philosophy will always be the same. We're going to be as good as we can be and give our coaches and athletes the opportunity to compete and be successful. That is the primary goal from an athletic point of view.

"From the University point of view, we have to be as good as we can be, yet operate within the rules and be a force within this University. As long as we are within the University structure, we do report to people and we are not different from anybody else—we can be a very positive factor for this University. Our importance is no bigger than that of the English or math department."

Robinson has confidence in his staff, his athletes and the facilities at Clemson University. "We have a solid base in all areas and we are a very solvent athletic department. But, we need to get better, take everything that we have and broaden it. We can't stand still. We will look ahead within the framework of the University and work to expand our horizons. We want to be as good as we can be and be a vital part of this University and represent the State of South Carolina in a positive manner."

Robinson was born in Columbia and attended A.C. Flora High School. During his high school career he was a point guard for the basketball team and a third baseman in baseball. He also played a good bit of golf during his younger days and was a scratch golfer at one time. He did not play any high school sports as a senior because of a heat stroke suffered in the summer of 1963. He graduated from A.C. Flora in 1964 and enrolled at Furman.

Robinson graduated from Furman with a B.S. degree in business and political science in 1968. He was a member of the varsity golf team and was the president of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity chapter at Furman. He worked in his family's real estate business for two years after receiving his degree from Furman.

Bobby Robinson has served Clemson as a successful coach and administrator since 1970.

For the past four years the Orange Aids Catalog marketing program has made it possible for Clemson alumni and IPTAY members to shop at home for quality Clemson products. The Orange Aids program provides officially licensed Clemson products and the proceeds go directly to support various university programs.

Last fall a new 6000 square foot retail outlet was opened adjacent to Gate 9 on the northwest corner of Memorial Stadium. The store features the finest in Clemson clothing, gifts, and souvenirs and is open all year long for your shopping convenience. Each catalog item and many more products are available.

You are encouraged to shop before and after each home football game, before home basketball games or each weekday when you visit the Clemson campus. You can also now enjoy a snack or pick-up tailgate supplies in the new ice cream bar located within the store.

If you did not receive a Fall '85 Orange Aids Catalog, please write to P.O. Box 2096, Clemson University, Clemson, SC 29632.

We thank you for your support and look forward to serving you in the upcoming year.

Clemson University has established a licensing program to protect the use of the University's name and insignias. Our proud heritage has created a demand by University students, fans, and alumni for products bearing the name and logos of our University to show their allegiance.

Our program is designed to protect the quality and integrity of products bearing the name and registered marks of our institution. Formal procedures for approval of products, artwork, and quality control of merchandise is in place.

We urge you to look for and buy officially Licensed Collegiate Products. A hang tag should be attached to all merchandise that has been approved by our University. We need and appreciate your cooperation.

If you have any questions or comments concerning this program, please contact Mr. Robert E. Ricketts, P.O. Box 31, Clemson, S.C. 29633 or telephone (803) 656-2101.

Clemson football fans owe Auburn some favors. Each of the first four football coaches in Clemson history came from Auburn, including John Heisman, the Hall-of-Fame Coach who laid the groundwork for the Clemson football tradition in the early years of this century.

In contemporary times, Clemson fans owe Auburn another favor, stemming from a friendship between Danny Ford and Pat Dye. Ford, Clemson's head coach since the 1978 Gator Bowl, was a player under Dye when the latter was an assistant coach under Bear Bryant at Alabama. The two became good friends and it was Dye who convinced Ford to pursue the coaching profession.

"Pat Dye and I were good friends when I was in my senior year in college and I was wondering what I was going to do with my life," said Ford. "Coach Dye was the one who pushed me to ask Coach Bryant about a graduate assistantship. He put me on the staff and I have been in coaching ever since."

Clemson fans are certainly happy Ford entered the profession because he has brought a solid program to among the finest in the nation. Now in his seventh full season at Clemson, his record of 52-15-2 (.768) is the fourth best winning percentage in college football among active coaches.

In the last four seasons Clemson has a 37-6-2 ledger, the fourth best winning percentage in America. The class of '84 was the third winningest in ACC history in terms of winning percentage, and no ACC class in the 32-year history of the league ever won more games in a four-year period.

Ford has been a part of three ACC championship teams and one national championship team at Clemson. In 1978 he was offensive coordinator for the 11-1 team that won the Gator Bowl over Ohio State, 17-15. The Gadsden, AL native was more than just the offensive coordinator in that game however, as he had become the head coach of the Tigers on December 10 after Charley Pell had already left to go to Florida. The 30-year-old Ford made quite a celebrated beginning to his head coaching career with that victory over the Woody Hayes coached Buckeyes. The nationally televised Clemson victory helped put the Tigers on the national football map and it began Clemson's climb to among the elite of college football.

In 1981 Ford became the youngest coach in the history of the game to win the National Championship. At the age of 33, Ford surprised the college football world by taking the unranked Tigers to three wins over top 10 teams and a perfect 12-0 record. Clemson handed Herschel Walker the only regular-season loss of his Georgia career, downed North Carolina in Chapel Hill in the only showdown of top 10 teams in ACC history, then defeated former champion Nebraska in the Orange Bowl.

That obviously is the highmark of Ford's brief, but eventful career at Clemson as he was named national Coach-of-the-Year by UPI, the College Football Writers of America, the Walter Camp Foundation and the Football Coaches of America.

A review of Ford's football past should help us understand why he has been so successful as a head coach. Another in a long line of former Bear Bryant players that have gone on to greatness in coaching, Ford played for the Bear between 1967 and 1969. He was Kenny Stabler's sophomore tight end as a starter in 1967, played that position in 1968 and moved to offensive tackle in 1969. Ford started all three years, was all-conference in 1969 and played on three teams that went to bowl games. In 1969 he was also a member of the All-SEC academic team, and served as the captain of the Alabama team.

After Dye's coaxing, Ford remained at Alabama as a graduate assistant for the 1970 and 1971 seasons. He had already earned his B.S. degree in industrial arts and earned his master's degree in special education in 1971. Ford became a full-time aide for Bryant in 1972 and 1973. The Tide went to four bowl games while Ford was an assistant coach.

Clemson's current head man then accepted a position as an assistant coach under Jimmy Sharpe at Virginia Tech. He remained in Blacksburg for three seasons (1974-76) before coming to Clemson as offensive line coach in 1977. And, just 23 games later he was named head coach of the Tigers at the age of 30, the youngest active division I coach in the country.

Few people climb to the top five of their profession by the age of 37. Pat Dye gave Danny Ford some sound advice back in 1969 and Clemson fans are glad he took it.

The Ford family: Danny, Ashley, Elizabeth, Jennifer and Debra.

Assistant Coaches

Miles Aldridge is the newest member of the Tiger coaching staff, as he joined Clemson on June 28, 1985. The native of Kansas City, MO will coach the inside linebackers and recruit in the lower part of South Carolina. A 1971 graduate of Gardner Webb College, he is in his 15th year of coaching. He began his collegiate coaching career at East Tennessee State, after which he moved to Wichita State, Tulsa, and then Mississippi. His most recent stint before Clemson was at Duke, where he served as linebacker coach for two seasons.

Lawson Holland was a reserve quarterback for the Tigers from 1970-73, which makes him the only current coach who played Clemson football. In his seventh year, Holland is in charge of receivers and recruiting Virginia, Washington, D.C., and central North Carolina. The Mooresville, N.C., native earned his B.A. in secondary education from Clemson in 1975.

Nelson Stokley has been the Tigers' offensive coordinator for the past five years. He came to Clemson on January 18, 1980 after serving as offensive coordinator for Virginia Tech. The 1968 graduate of LSU was the school's starting quarterback from 1965-67 and then served the fine southern institution as an assistant coach from 1968-75. Stokley still holds many LSU passing records and he was the SEC Sophomore of the Year in 1965.

Don Denning is in his fifth season with the Clemson staff. The deep secondary coach and north Georgia recruiter joined the Tigers on July 1, 1981. He has previously served Western Carolina as defensive coordinator and assistant athletic director, Memphis State as assistant head coach, and Delta State University as head coach. Denning graduated from Presbyterian College in 1960 and received a master's degree from Western Carolina in 1969.

Woody McCorvey is in his third year of coaching the tight ends. He came to Clemson from Alabama A&M where he was the defensive coordinator for four years. The 1972 Alabama State graduate lettered four years in football at the school before earning his physical education degree. He then received a masters degree in health, leisure and sports from the University of West Florida in 1977.

Larry Van Der Heyden has coached some fine offensive linemen during his six years at Clemson and is a major reason why the Tigers' ground game has been so successful. The offensive line coach joined the staff on January 5, 1979 from Memphis State where he was offensive coordinator for three years. He has also served stints at Iowa State, Drake, Indiana State, East Carolina and Virginia. He earned his B.A. and masters degrees at Iowa State and lettered three years in football and baseball.

Tom Harper, the Tigers' assistant head coach, came to Clemson from Virginia Tech's coaching staff on Feb. 2, 1981. The native of Piqua, OH served as the defensive coordinator for Virginia Tech, North Carolina, Iowa State and Wake Forest, where he was head coach in 1972. Harper graduated from the University of Kentucky in 1955 and received his master's degree at the same school in 1958. Nine of his former players have signed pro contracts in the last four years.

Chuck Reedy has coached Clemson's running backs for the last seven years. The St. Augustine, FL., native also recruits for the Tigers in southeast South Carolina, south Georgia and Florida. He earned two letters in football from Appalachian State where he graduated in 1971 with a degree in health and physical education. He came to Clemson from Kentucky on July 5, 1978.

Tommy West coaches the defensive and bandit ends and also recruits middle and south Georgia for the Tigers. He is in his fourth year at Clemson, he came from Appalachian State University on July 10, 1982. The Gainesville, GA, native earned his B.S. degree in health education from the University of Tennessee in 1975 after lettering three years in football and baseball for the Volunteers. A fine all-around athlete, he was drafted out of high school by baseball's Chicago Cubs.

For the sixth time in the last seven years the Clemson all-around sports program has been ranked in the top 15 in the nation. The survey, conducted by the Knoxville Journal, takes into account national rankings in selected sports. Women's sports are not included in this poll, which has been in existence since 1971.

This poll is a good index of Clemson's athletic success in recent years. Clemson first made the top 20 in 1975-76 with a number-20 finish. The Tigers had four top five finishes between 1980 and 1983, one of only two schools in the nation to do that during this time period.

The 1984-85 academic year was another outstanding season for Clemson sports as nine teams were ranked in the top 30 of their respective sports. Five male sports teams and four female sports teams were in the top 30, highlighted by the soccer team's national championship. Three other individuals were lauded as national champions as Richard Matuszewski and Brandon Walters won the NCAA indoor doubles national title, while Tim Krebs won the 1500 meters at the NCAA indoor track meet in Syracuse, NY.

Emergency Services

The Clemson University Athletic Department provides the following for your safety and emergency medical needs:

1. Advanced cardiac life-support stations in four locations. (North stands, Upper North deck, South stands, Upper South deck.) These units are staffed with skill-care nurses, physicians, cardiologists, internists, paramedics, and EMTs.
2. Mobile units of EMT's and paramedics are strategically located throughout the entire stadium.
3. Ambulances with life-support equipment are available in North stand and South stand areas and have prearranged routes for evacuation to local hospitals.

Learn to recognize these personnel and facilities.

WHAT TO DO IF EMERGENCIES ARISE

Please step back and give the organized stadium EMS personnel room to work. Well-intentioned attempts to help by untrained persons interferes with the efficiency of the EMS system. If you have basic or advanced training in specific life-support methods, make your qualifications known and offer your help. Untrained personnel can be frequently more harmful than helpful.

MEDICAL ADVICE FOR FANS

If you have a pre-existing medical or health problem, please check with your personal physician and obtain his advice before attending games. Many emergencies occurring at the stadium do so because of prior existing conditions. Use common sense in dressing, eating, drinking and physical exertion. Be certain that you have identification on you as to the diagnosis and what medications you are currently taking.

Be aware of warning signs of heart attacks: chest pain, chest tightness, shortness of breath, sweating, palpitations, fainting, nausea and vomiting.

Recognize that our most common serious medical problem at football games are heart attacks and allergic reactions to insect stings. Be aware that insect stings will continue to always be very frequent at outdoor sporting events and should always be treated with immediate ice until advice can be obtained. If you have ever had a reaction to bee or other insect sting, check with your personal physician as to whether you should carry a kit.

The stadium emergency phone number is (803) 656-2999.

IPTAY, in its 52nd year as Clemson's athletic scholarship fund-raising club has continued on its long and successful journey. From a modest beginning in 1934 with only 162 members, IPTAY has grown to include 20,000 loyal Tiger supporters. IPTAY, "I-Pay-Thirty-A-Year," is recognized as the number-one group of its kind in the country.

During the 1984-85 academic year, IPTAY continued to grow and expand with the addition of three features. The IPTAY Athletic Academic Endowment was established during the fall of 1984 for recruiting scholarships for academics. The basic principle behind the endowment is that money donated by matching gift companies is earmarked for a separate scholarship just for academics.

IPTAY also introduced the Tiger Life program in late 1984. With Tiger Life, the Clemson IPTAY Club is the owner and beneficiary of a whole life insurance policy on a participant's life. The contributor makes comparatively small annual gifts for a maximum of eight years. Contributions go directly to Clemson University Tiger Life and all donations to Clemson and IPTAY are, of course, tax deductible. With this program, the member creates a sizable capital asset without impinging on the funds destined for his family. In effect, it creates a $100,000 endowment fund in the contributor's name.

During the past year IPTAY also adopted the Orange and White as the official publication of IPTAY. The Orange and White, which is published weekly from mid-August to March and monthly during April, June and July, began exclusive distribution to 20,000 IPTAY members in early September.

Listed above are just three features that IPTAY has implemented in order to continually attain new heights of success. But, the determining factor that has allowed IPTAY to flourish for over 50 years, is the undying dedication of its members.

The reason is people—people who are committed to a successful program at Clemson University, both on and off the field. Professors, athletes, administrators, managers, trainers, alumni, and friends all play a part in this success. The results which have been produced are something Clemson people can all be proud of in this search for excellence at Clemson University.

The on-going search for excellence in the academic area at Clemson University has resulted in the awarding of the 1984 Fulbright Scholarship for graduates to study overseas to six of six Clemson applicants. In addition, a Guggenheim Scholarship was awarded to another Clemson graduate. Of the 320 valedictorians in South Carolina 120 were accepted to Clemson University. Furthermore, a building program is being instituted on campus that will include a new chemistry building, as well as the expansion of several other departments.

That search for excellence is further exemplified by the efforts of the 20,000 IPTAY members who contributed $118,000 more in 1984 than the year before. These monies enabled over 440 athletes, managers, and trainers to receive scholarship aid to attend Clemson.

These athletes also have the strong commitment to excellence that Clemson supporters both deserve and desire. The Tiger football team has the fourth best four-year record in college football. In December 1984, the soccer team became the school's second national champion by defeating defending champion Indiana. Soccer, men's cross country, women's cross country, men's tennis and women's tennis were all Top 20 teams, while the men's and women's tennis teams were conference champions. Swimming and wrestling enjoyed their best seasons ever. There were 19 All-Americans and 60 all-conference performers competing for Clemson, in addition to six athletes that took part in the Olympics. There is no doubt that Clemson athletics enjoyed one of its best years ever.

IPTAY certainly was a major reason for these accomplishments. But, what is IPTAY other than scholarships? And how has Clemson University benefited from these 51 years of service? The Clemson IPTAY Club has a board of directors led by President Lawrence Starkey, Vice President Jim Patterson, and Secretary-Treasurer Eddie Dalton.

Under the direction of these men, the main purpose of IPTAY continues to be raising monies for athletic scholarships, and thanks to the foresight of athletic department officials and the support of the Board of Directors, many improvements have taken place on campus which are of benefit not only to athletes and fans of athletics, but to the academic area of the University as well.

Specific areas of improvement in recent years include installing lights on Riggs Field, building a new baseball facility (with lights that were added this spring); funding Tiger Band travel; donating over $200,000 to the President's Fund, and developing the East Beach area enjoyed by all Clemson students.

The attitude of Clemson people, especially those associated with IPTAY, is "success is a journey, not a destination." The search for excellence continues at Clemson and, thanks to the continued support of 20,000 IPTAY supporters, the excellence in athletics will continue. As IPTAY continues its service to Clemson, one may only wonder what the future holds.

After 23 consecutive years of record-breaking support, there is no doubt that Clemson will remain number-one.

When you purchase $215,000 worth of office supplies annually, you need to do it in the most cost-effective means possible.

That's the responsibility and challenge facing Russ Conley at South Carolina National Bank.

For every day, across the state, more than 2,300 people depend upon his department for the materials and supplies they need to respond to their growing audience of customers.

Harper Brothers lent a hand through the introduction of Purchasing Management System. A computerized mode of purchasing office supplies that is more time and cost efficient than anything else in the market.

Purchasing Management System gives you precise,

*Russ Conley

"With the help of Purchasing Management System, we have been able to cut delivery time from seven days to one.

In terms of inventory reduction alone, that translates into savings of $80,000 for this year."

timely inventory control without the cost. And all but eliminates expensive, time-consuming back-orders and misfills.

Monday morning press a button and enter your order. Tuesday morning, it's on your desk.

Tough Customers Choose Piedmont.

People who take flying seriously complain if an airline isn't performing. So you can imagine how proud Piedmont was last year when, according to Air Transport World magazine, we received fewer complaints than any other major airline.

It's one reason why Air Transport World recently named us, of all the world's airlines, the Airline Of The Year. And a reason why our record against the competition has been so good lately.

WHEN TIMING IS CRITICAL...

LIFE REACH

As the region's
referral center

for patients with cardiovascular disease, Providence Heart Institute in Columbia treats patients from across
South Carolina.

And when a heart problem
needs immediate attention, our Life Reach helicopter can get a patient to us rapidly and safely.

The helicopter is fully staffed and equipped for critical care — and it can take off within 5 minutes of a call to our Emergency Room. At 150 miles an hour, the Life Reach crew can reach any hospital in South Carolina in under an hour — often in only minutes.
On the trip back, the medical team on the helicopter is in communication with doctors at Providence.

Heart disease touches almost every family in South Carolina. The Providence Heart Institute was created to provide the highest quality services for the diagnosis and treatment of cardiovascular problems, and the Life Reach helicopter is a reflection of our dedication to that goal.

We are committed to offering the most up-to-date diagnostic and therapeutic services...with an expert medical staff...using the very latest techniques and equipment...in the finest facilities. Providence Heart Institute also has a commitment to research into the best methods of treating and preventing cardiovascular disease.

Our state's community hospitals are able to take care of almost any illness you'll ever have. But it's good to know that when specialized cardiovascular services are needed to complement those at primary care facilities, Providence is available. And it's reassuring, too, to have Life Reach Rapid Transport standing by —

when timing is critical.

Bobby Robinson Speaks Out

Q. What are some of the short term goals you would like to see the Clemson Athletic Department accomplish?

A. In the short term the main thing we want to do is get our philosophies across to our people. We need to do what is right, stay within the rules and be a positive aspect of this University. That is what we have tried to communicate all over campus as well as off campus.

Since March 7 I have said that athletics is a very visible aspect of any institution, more visible than any other department perhaps, but it is no more important than any other department. We fall as a department within the University and come under the Vice President for Student Affairs.

Q. Where's Clemson headed in terms of facilities?

A. We have always thought we have some of the best facilities in the country, we have prided ourselves in that area. But, we must stay competitive and continue to improve our facilities. We need a new indoor tennis facility, we need a new soccer stadium, we need an athletic dormitory, we need permanent seating at the outdoor track. We have already done a 10-year plan for facilities.

We will do what we have to do to make our program competitive.

Q. What is the biggest difference between being associate athletic director and athletic director?

A. The difference has been unbelievable. I have done 55 speaking engagements in about 100 days. I am to the point where I can't do any more because we have started the academic year. Your time is spread thin at this time of the year. I enjoy the speaking engagements.

The other thing that is a major difference for me deals with facilities. I have dealt with them from a financial standpoint. Now I have to decide what we will do and how much pressure to put on the project to get it done.

I was involved in the finances across the board before, but now I am involved in the bottom line on projects. You have to be cognizant of the bottom line. I am now more involved with the tickets and parking, but I will not be significantly involved. We have an assistant AD for this area and he will handle it.

The job of the athletic director also places you on an unbelievable amount of committees, campus wide and within your own department. On campus I'm on the planning board, the development council and many others.

To be honest with you the biggest difference in the job is that from now on it is no longer what you think, but what do I do, yes or no. I have never had a hard time making a decision. I try to stay with it once I make a decision.

Q. When you graduated from Furman did you ever imagine that you would be in athletics, or for that matter be the athletic director at Clemson?

A. You never think about being the athletic director at Clemson when you start out, but I always wanted to be in athletics at Clemson. I went with our family business out of college, I think everyone owes it to their family to try that first. My family was very understanding when I had a chance to go to Clemson.

I was fortunate to get a job at Clemson and then to move to the athletic department. I was lucky to have a man like Bill McLellan, who gave me the chance. He allowed me to grow as an administrator. I never actively sought the A.D. position at Clemson, I just believe if you are meant to get a position and you work hard you will get it. I have had a chance to go to other schools over the years and if I had not gotten the job here I think I am qualified enough to have gone to another school. But things worked out here and I am glad they did.

Q. What attracted you to Clemson?

A. I did not come to Clemson as a student because Clemson did not offer a program in accounting when I was in school. We now have an outstanding business school. My family has always followed Clemson. When I was at Furman I came to Clemson games and followed them all the time.

Q. What are your philosophies concerning the football schedule?

A. We are in an unusual situation. We have seven conference games we have to play plus South Carolina and the ninth game has generally been Georgia. We will alternate Georgia and Florida State starting in 1988 due to Georgia's conference commitments.

Basically we feel we have to open at home every year. I apologized to coach Ford because we are not doing that this season, but we will in the future. I think it is a big disadvantage when you have a home stadium that holds 80,000 people and you don't open at home. You need to get off to a good start and playing in front of our home crowd is important. We feel we need to have a balanced schedule. Our conference is set so you can usually only play a non-conference schedule early.

We have a long-term agreement with Virginia Tech. We have scheduled Missouri for four years in the 1990s so we can get some exposure out of the area, and to have a good draw at home and give us some national credibility. The Southwest Conference and SEC have schedule problems, they have a lot of obligations. Our schedules are set through 1993.

In general we want a schedule that will allow us to be a national contender if we play well. We are playing Florida State because they are a good team in the Southeast and because we recruit in that area, it gives us exposure in Florida.

Q. Where are we heading in athletics with some of the proposed changes, like a proposition 48?

A. Proposition 48 was passed in 1983 and it sets stronger guidelines (like a required SAT score) for an athlete to get into school and have a scholarship. It will be voted on again in January.

The thing I like about it is that it takes out the arbitrary decisions on a student. In other words, today all a student-athlete needs is a 2.0 high school average and meet the school's entrance requirements. This rule states that everyone would have to have a 2.0 in certain core courses and have at least a 700 on the SATs. That means that everyone has to have the same requirements. This way if a student-athlete could not get into school A, he could also not get into school B, that is if he did not meet these certain requirements. Thus the school entrance requirements do not matter when it comes to players who don't have a 700 on the SAT.

Overall it should not hurt us because the marginal student-athlete would not be going to another school if he could not come to Clemson. He would have to go to a junior college. That might be the level that would have the greatest change, the junior college level.

I am not sure all parts of the proposition will stay the same by the time it is adopted. There is a lot of concern about the SAT part of the proposal because many don't think it is a fair overall judge of a person's character or intelligence.

THE ENEMY: RAIN

A mere 1/8" of rain could float your car off the road.

Hence the reason for Vector, Goodyear's superb handling all-season radial.

Vector's aggressive criss-cross tread actually pumps water away. To help your car maintain traction, even when the elements become hostile.

And Vector's performance advantages are enduring.

Even after thousands of miles of wear, Vector's deep tread and double-steel belts continue to give you outstanding traction and performance.

Vector

It simply performs like no other tire in the world.

Tiger Trivia Teasers

by Margaret Lamb

So you've studied the football program and you know all the players' numbers, their positions, the coaches, the Clemson football schedule, and you've still got a few minutes left before the teams come out to play.

While you're waiting, how about playing a game of your own? We've come up with some questions to tease your brain and test your knowledge of Clemson history.

Some might call it a Tiger version of Trivial Pursuit, but Clemson fans don't consider anything about Clemson trivial. The answers appear upside down on this page.

TRUE - FALSE

1. Clemson's first football coach was Walter Merritt Riggs.
2. The nickname suggested for the first Clemson team was Bobcats.
3. The school's original colors were purple and gold.
4. In seven of the last eight Clemson-Georgia battles, the winner has gained the least yardage.
5. Last year Clemson University shattered a record for the number of Fulbright scholars in one year.

Now that you've gotten warmed up on some easy ones, proceed to Section II.

6. What other school coached by Riggs had the same colors and the same mascot as Clemson?

7. What are Clemson's official school colors?
8. What was the first team motto?
9. What two Heisman Trophy winning running backs never scored a point against Clemson?
10. What alumnus worked with Thomas A. Edison?
11. In order, what are the top five states with the most Clemson alumni? *
12. What two states are tied for the least number of alumni? *
13. Why is S.C. Lieutenant Gov. W.L. Mauldin important to Clemson University?
14. What is the late Col. William B. Johnson of Easley, a 1917 Clemson graduate, known for?
15. Assuming you are reading this program while you are sitting in the stadium, where would you be if construction on the Lake Hartwell Reservoir had proceeded according to original plans?

MULTIPLE CHOICE

16. The Howard Rock is (a) a dance (b) a rock rubbed by the players for good luck (c) A pebble passed on to Clemson coaches for good luck
17. The name Death Valley was coined by (a) The losingest Carolina coach in history (b) A "Greenville News" sportswriter (c) Lonnie McMillan
18. Bob Williams is (a) Clemson College's first winning coach (b) Clemson College's first president (c) Coached football at both Clemson and Carolina
19. Where was the original South Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanics located? (a) Columbia (b) Greenville (c) Clemson
20. The Clemson Alma Mater was written by (a) Music Professor John Butler (b) Alumnus John Cely (c) Alumnus Albert C. Corcoran
21. Rembert Stokes, Class of '53, invented (a) an artificial leg in use today (b) sandwiched coin (c) electron microscope
22. What is Clemson's association with okra? (a) Clemson spineless okra is the world's most widely grown variety. (b) Clemson is the site of a nationally known okra festival (c) Clemson horticulturists just introduced a new variety of okra
23. Thomas Green Clemson, the founder of Clemson, is the son-in-law of (a) Ben Tillman (b) John C. Calhoun (c) Henry Clay

24. What football legend coached at Clemson? (a) Bear Bryant (b) John Heisman (c) Vince Lombardi
25. In what year did Clemson begin admitting undergraduate coeds for full-time study? (a) 1954-55 (b) 1953-54 (c) 1957-58

5-POINT BONUS: The winningest baseball coach in Clemson history, percentage-wise, is (a) Frank Howard (b) Bill Wilhelm (c) Randy Hinson

* Alumni listed on Clemson's rolls

ANSWERS
1 True Riggs also was dean of engineering and president of Clemson
2 False The nickname suggested was Lions because the players wore long hair to protect their heads since they didn't have helmets
3 True The gold was hard to see after several uniform washings, so the color was changed to orange
4 True
5 True In 1984, Clemson University had six of six selected. a record in the history of the Fulbright program
6 Auburn
7 Northwest purple and burnt orange
8 Eat em up Clemson
9 George Rogers of the University of South Carolina and Herschel Walker of the University of Georgia
10 Thomas M. Hunter, Class of 1909 was asked by Edison to build a transformer and occasionally consulted with him on the project. He was 99 this month.
11 South Carolina, 24,368. North Carolina, 3,675. Georgia 3,137. Florida 1,646. Virginia, 1,159.
12 Wyoming and South Dakota with seven.
13 In 1889, after heated debate, Mauldin cast the tie-breaking vote in the S.C. Senate accepting Thomas G. Clemson's bequest of land for an agricultural college.
14 He invented the "Jeep" in 1940
15 Under water if you're sealed anywhere in the first 27 fathoms.
MULTIPLE CHOICE
16 (b) A rock rubbed by the players for good luck before each home game as they run down the hill.
17 (c) The late Lonnie McMillan, coach of Presbyterian College, which rarely scored, much less won at Clemson, once told a sportswriter he was going to play Clemson at Death Valley. The name stuck
18 (c) Called the ultimate Benedict Arnold of football, Williams guided the Gamecocks in 1902 and 1903 and served the Tigers in '06, '09, and 1913-15. He was always on the winning side
19 (a) Columbia. The college opened its doors in 1880 in Columbia and later became part of the South Carolina College.
20 (c) Corcoran. He wrote the alma mater in 1918 after attending an ROTC Camp in New York where cadets from other schools sang their alma mater. Embarrassed because the Clemson cadets had no song, he returned to Clemson and wrote one.
21 (b) sandwiched coin. Stokes invented the "sandwiched" coin, which has a copper center and a nickel alloy exterior, thus being usable in coin machines.
22 (a) Clemson spineless okra is the world's most widely grown variety of okra
23 (a) John C. Calhoun
24 (b) John Heisman coached Clemson from 1900-1903
25 (b) The Board of Trustees voted to admit undergraduate women during the second semester of the 1954-55 academic year provided they lived in their homes.
BONUS (a) Frank Howard coached baseball one season, 1943, with a 12-3 record for a percentage of .800.
If you answered 22 or more correctly, you've earned your (Tiger) stripes.
If you got 15 or more right, there's hope. Spend a few days on the Clemson campus and your blood soon will run with orange.
If you missed more than 10, you must be suffering from a case of Building Fever. We recommend you be quarantined in Athens.

HERE'S HOW TO BUILD THE COST-MANAGED, EMPLOYEE-SATISFYING BENEFITS PROGRAM.

Competition is growing more fierce than ever before, everywhere.

You can find competition within your own company. A battle is raging right now between managing costs and building an employee compensation program that attracts and keeps valuable employees.

FROM THE SINGLE SOURCE

Now, for the first time, you can build an affordable, cost-managed compensation program for your company using the most innovative insurance and financial products available today—all from one source, the single source, Blue Cross/Blue Shield and Companion.

THE CHOICES

Starting with health benefits, choose from cost management plans; Preferred Personal Care, our preferred provider organization or Companion HealthCare, our health maintenance organization.

Companion companies offer group, supplemental and dependent life, disability coverage, pensions, annuities and workers compensation. Add payroll deduction plans like individual homeowners, automobile and universal life.

Service-only options include third party claims administration, cost management and employee wellness programs.

TOTAL EMPLOYEE FLEXIBILITY

With our flexible compensation plan, employees receive the added benefit of choice that allows them to build a plan that best meets their needs. You benefit from affordable, managed compensation costs and employee satisfaction.

THE ONLY SOURCE YOU'LL EVER NEED

To be truly competitive, you need a compensation program that offers flexibility, cost-managed benefits and employee satisfaction. You need the Single Source, Blue Cross/Blue Shield and Companion. For information on any of our products, contact your independent agent or the Blue Cross Marketing Division at 803-788-3860.

FIELDING A WINNER

GIVING AMERICA THE POWER TO GROW ON

Success on the field doesn't come easy.

It takes a lot of work. A lot of planning. A lot of effort, skill and commitment.

Then, if you've worked hard enough and planned well enough. You come up with a winner.

And that's what the South Carolina Electric Co-ops have done over the past 50 years. By delivering affordable, dependable power to rural areas, they made possible the industrialization of more than half of our state.

Whether that industrial development took place in factories or on farms, rural electrification made production more efficient and effective, reduced food prices and expanded our potential for economic development.

That means life got better. On the farms. And in the cities. Because South Carolina Electric Co-ops are fielding a winner. For everyone.

Jeff Lytton

By Kassie Kessinger

Jeff Lytton has played football every fall since he was six-years-old. Counting this fall, that means the 6-3 255-pound Clemson center is a veteran of 16 football seasons. Along the way he's played on three high school national championship teams as well as Clemson's '81 championship club. His team's records over the last eight years is 83-7-1. But this year may well be his most significant season on the gridiron.

Heading into the '85 campaign Lytton had played in 21 of Clemson's last 22 games, but his start against Virginia Tech last week was his first as a Tiger. And yet the old man of the front line is Clemson's second most experienced offensive lineman as he is in his fifth year in Tigertown.

Although the Blue Ash, OH native has experienced much success on the gridiron, it has not been without a lot of sweat and perseverance. Contributing to his longevity in the sport has been his willingness to adhere to the work ethic and having the good fortune of playing under some of the finest coaches. You might say Lytton wasn't always blessed with the tools, but his desire and dedication have helped mold him into a starter on Clemson's football squad.

He is a protege of present Notre Dame coach Gerry Faust, who coached Lytton at Moeller High School and was the guiding force behind his emergence as a football player. "Going into high school I had no idea I would ever make it to the collegiate level as a football player," Lytton recalled. "But Coach Faust told me if I really worked hard over the four years in high school, try to do what he was teaching me, it would all work out and everything would fall in place.

"As late as my junior year I still didn't think I would be good enough to earn a scholarship to a major college," continued Lytton. "But I continued to work hard and do what Coach asked of me, and like he predicted, things kind of fell into place, and here I am at Clemson."

Playing for Coach Faust was a delight according to the senior. "He really helped me find myself in high school. Entering high school I was pretty much my own person, did things my way, and didn't have much discipline, but he really helped give me some direction.

"Coach Faust was a pretty hard man, especially where academics were concerned," continued Lytton. "He always tried to get the most out of you. He worked with you individually, taking you under his wing and showing you the ropes, almost like a father."

When asked how his current coach, Danny Ford, compares to Faust, Lytton revealed they are actually quite similar, "especially in that both make you work real hard and they really have similar coaching philosophies. The most notable difference might be in that Ford treats you more like an adult, which is understandable because he is coaching me at an older level."

Lytton wasn't heavily recruited as a prepster, but he did catch the eye of the Clemson coaching staff who invited him to Tigertown for a visit. Being a native of Ohio, Lytton was a Ohio State Buckeye fan while growing up, and in fact, it was his interest in the 1978 Gator Bowl, "the one with the Woody Hayes incident", in which he first heard of Clemson. Hooked on his initial visit to Tigertown, Lytton enjoys the area so much he hopes to remain in the vicinity even after his playing days come to a close.

Another Clemson coach who has been instrumental in Lytton's overall development while in Tigertown is offensive line coach Larry Van Der Heyden, who beams with pride as he recalls Lytton's progression from a not so promising freshman to a starter. "At the time Jeff was a freshman we weren't sure that he would ever play at Clemson," the seventh-year assistant remembered. "One thing you always feel good about in coaching is sometimes you feel that you can help youngsters. Somewhere along the line maybe you've helped that youngster grow up, realize what life is all about and that kind of thing. And I think Jeff is one of those youngsters, because his first two years I don't think there was a coach on our staff who thought or felt like he would ever play."

Van Der Heyden explained that early on Lytton realized that he was behind some excellent centers and would have to battle his way up. "I think he's one of those youngsters just through dedication and hard work he's really made himself a pretty good football player," smiled the coach. "I think of all the youngsters we have here at Clemson on the offensive line I'm probably more proud of Jeff than anybody else."

The soft-spoken Lytton is equally as gracious with his comments for his speciality coach, whom he praises for helping him become mentally tough. "Coach has been a big reason for my progress at Clemson," emphasized Lytton. "He really helped make me a better person. He always says when he stops yelling you'd better start worrying. He says you have to be mentally tough to play this game, and I'm about as mentally tough as you can be. Coach is a perfectionist, and if you don't give it your all, play hard, you won't play for him.

"You really have to love this game to play all these years, going through what it takes. You really have to want it in your heart. Football has given me discipline as much as anything. If you can survive and endure all these years on the football field, business will be easy."

Jeff has toiled in the shadows of some great centers while at Clemson. He's been patient and waited for his turn. Once again Jeff Lytton has proven that hard work and perseverance does finally earn you a place in the sun.

This Day In Tiger Football

by Foster Senn

Early fall—the first hint of change in the leaves, new shows on network television, tweeds and wools with their first appearance, and of course, football with its season openers. For nine months now fans of all college teams have met, discussed, debated, and finally decided that “old Coach John Smith just might pull’em through this year.”

On this day in Clemson history, September 21, the Tigers have sometimes made fan’s hopes rise, and sometimes fall. But always the Tigers have quenched their fans thirst for football action and given some indication of what was ahead in games to come.

1929—Clemson stomped Newberry up and down the field this day at Riggs Field, 68-0. The Tigers breezed through the Redskins, scoring at will. Coach Josh Cody played everyone on his 38-man squad in this season opener.

1935—“Approximately 7,000 anxious spectators witnessed the opening game of the new season at Riggs Field when the Tiger powerhouse turned on the steam to down the Presbyterian Calvinists, 25-6, in one of the most impressive victories Clemson has registered over Walter Johnson’s fighting Blue Stockings in several seasons of competition,” said the 1936 TAPS. Winston “Streak” Lawton, a speedy 158-pounder from Thacker, West Virginia, ran 45 yards early in the game to set up a four-yard run by Bill “Dusty” Wiles. Mac Folger also scored twice from 10 yards to push the Tigers to victory.

1940—In a special day for both teams, the Tigers traveled to Clinton to take on Presbyterian. It was a day of celebrating P.C. Coach Walter Johnson’s silver jubilee at P.C., and it was Frank Howard’s debut as Clemson’s head coach. The way Howard got the job is an interesting tale. “We were going out to play Boston College in the Cotton Bowl in 1939,” says Howard, “and there was a lot of talk about Coach Jess Neely leaving. Mr. J. C. Littlejohn, who was the school’s business manager at the time, came up to me and said, ‘Coach Neely might be leaving, but you’re not. We want you to be head football coach.’ Well, Neely went to Rice. There was then a meeting of the Athletic Council, who ran things back then. A fellow named Sam Rhodes from engineering made a motion to make me coach. I thought I had already been hired. They were a little slow, so I stood up and said, ‘I second the motion.’ ” They hired Coach Howard that day, and in his opener against P.C., Howard’s Tigers trounced the Blue Hose, 38-0 under sweltering heat. This was the first of 165 victories in Coach Howard’s Clemson career.

1957—Same teams, same day, same result—Clemson buried P.C. again, 66-0, at Memorial Stadium before 15,000 eager pallbearers. The Tigers were literally unstoppable, scoring on every possession but the last. Clemson led 40-0 at the half behind the play of Bob Spooner, Charlie Horne, George Usry, Doug Cline, and Harvey White, a highly touted newcomer.

1963—Clemson went to the Midwest for its opener this year, taking on Oklahoma. The third largest crowd ever at Norman’s Owen Field (62,000) gathered to watch Bud Wilkerson’s Sooners, picked in the top five in preseason polls, take on the Tigers, picked to win the Atlantic Coast Conference. Surprisingly, Clemson jumped out to a 14-0 lead as Jimmy Parker threw to Frank Pierce for one score, and Hal Davis ran for another. The heat of the midwest began to take its toll on the Carolina boys, however, as the Sooners scored right before the half. The heat got no better in the locker room. “They put us in a sweat box,” said Howard. “Our boys were so hot they just layed out on the floor. I could hardly get them back on their feet.” The Sooners whipped the hot, tired Tigers in the second half and went on to a 31-14 victory.

1968—“You’ve heard me say that getting a tie is like kissing your sister,” said Howard, “but today I had a pretty sister.” That was his reaction to the Tigers’ late rally which tied Wake Forest 20-20 before 22,000 at the new Groves Stadium and a regional television audience. Benny Michael barrelled in from seven yards, and Mike Funderburk kicked the point after to deadlock the contest with under three minutes remaining. Earlier in the game Charlie Waters scored for the Tigers.

1974—A second half surge sent the 15th-ranked N.C. State Wolfpack by Clemson 31-10 in a night game at Raleigh. Stan Fritts scored three touchdowns and gained 169 yards for Lou Holtz’s team. Roland Hooks also caught a long touchdown pass. Mark Fellers ran in from 15 yards to give Clemson an early lead.

Today the Tigers have arrived for their ninth September 21 battle. Some questions will be answered; some won’t. But, best of all, football will be back in Tigertown.

Frank Howard began his Clemson coaching career on this date 45 years ago.

The Other Bruise Brother

By Margaret Lamb & Tim Bourret

The hulking frame looks oddly out of place as it balances on the chair made for a child one-fifth his size. The hands, more accustomed to clutching a football than a fourth-grade reader, dwarf the book's pictures and the print, reminding one of Gulliver in the land of the Lilliput.

But, despite his arresting size, William DeVane, Clemson's former middle guard with the 1981 National Championship team and one of those two notorious "Bruise Brothers", is a self-described cream puff with his children. DeVane may be 6-2, and 280 pounds, but packed into that muscle and sinew is an immeasurable supply of patience, gentleness and love, a side few of his opponents ever glimpsed.

Yes, the man who once pounced on a Nebraska fumble in the first quarter of the 1982 Orange Bowl, a recovery that set the tempo for Clemson's 22-15 National Championship clinching victory, is now a school teacher. In the second semester of the 1984-85 academic year DeVane finished his degree in elementary education as a practice teacher in the fourth grade at Wren Primary School in Anderson County. This fall he is teaching youngsters at Oconee Vocational School, a challenge as big as taking on Nebraska's Dave Rimington.

"I really enjoy teaching kids, it is something I have wanted to do for a long time," said DeVane recently. "Football and education have been a part of my life since I was young and I am still pursuing both avenues. They are both challenging." DeVane is also serving as an assistant football coach at nearby Walhalla High School, so he has quite a busy schedule.

"I am used to an active schedule and I am keeping one up now. This way I still have teaching and football in my life. I have not given up on football as a player yet, but this fall I will concentrate on coaching and teaching and resume an attempt as a player next year."

Encouraged by his father, William DeVane, Sr., he started playing midget football at the age of seven in his hometown of Jacksonville, NC. Throughout his Clemson career he was always thrown in the fire. His freshman year, 1980, injuries in the Clemson defensive front forced William into a frontline position. He responded with eight tackles against Duke, and for the first time people started to notice the articulate tackle. Now William is being thrown into a different type of fire.

"I did not have a lot of experience in teaching special children when I was working on my degree at Clemson," said DeVane. "I have worked hard over the last month or so and I have been learning on the job a lot. Many times that is the best way to learn anyway."

DeVane says some of the traits he used in football have served him well in the classroom. "Communicating with people and being able to cooperate with people are essential on the field and in the classroom. You have to be a team player to work with the students, other teachers and the principal. You've also got to be able to follow directions."

DeVane should not have much trouble with discipline because he was one of the team leaders of Tiger football during its most successful three-year period in history. Between 1981 and 1983 Clemson had a 30-2-2 record, the best in college football and William DeVane's leadership was one of the main reasons. While William Perry got a lot of the attention, DeVane's savvy and ability helped Perry become a better player. DeVane still has some hopes of joining Perry in the NFL.

"I had a tryout with Buffalo in the summer, but did not make it. I still would like to play pro football, but for now I am concentrating on my other career. It can also be very rewarding."

His leadership abilities have carried over into the classroom. Last year when he was teaching at Wren one student said, "His size scared me at first." DeVane echoes those sentiments, but after a while the feelings changed dramatically. "It was rough at the beginning because they were scared of me, but as time went on they knew I was just a big cream puff. But, in general I did not have much of a discipline problem." "By the end of the year he was just like another teacher to us," said fourth grade Paige Fowler.

Whether William DeVane is a Bruise Brother or a "cream puff", does not matter for those who are close to him know he will be successful whatever career he chooses.

William DeVane, former starting middle guard for Clemson's National Championship team, is pursuing two careers.

Sometimes, service means more than fixing a power line.

Greg Coats, SCE&G Lineman

That's the kind of service most people expect from us.

But that's not all we do.

Our Summer Foundation provides assistance for organizations which aid people in need. Programs like the Baptist Medical Center Foundation and the Foundation for the Multihandicapped, Blind and Deaf of South Carolina, whose helping hands reach a lot of people.

If you know of an organization that could use our help, drop us a line. We'd like to be of service.

TIGER

LIFE

For the past 51 years thousands of you have displayed your unsurpassed loyalty to Clemson by making IPTAY one of the greatest athletic scholarship groups in America.

Now there are some people who want to make another unique effort for Clemson by providing an endowment to assure the future security and success of the Clemson Athletic Department.

Tiger Life is a program through which you make an affordable investment over an eight-year period to insure a sizable future gift to the Clemson Athletic Department.

Listed below are a few individuals who with a few others who wish to remain anonymous have arranged for gifts in excess of $2,000,000 to Clemson Athletic Department Endowment.

Mark Slade Avent
 Landrum H. Henderson, Jr.
 Mrs. J. William Holcomb
 David A. Gray
 J. Chris Swift

Daniel H. Coker, Jr.

 Mr. and Mrs. S. Leonard Gough
 Mr. and Mrs. Elbert L. Henderson
 Daniel E. Hunt
 Charles D. Miller
 Robert W. Robinson, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Turner, Jr.
 Mr. and Mrs. Sam B. White

If you think you would like to consider this unique opportunity you may call Bert Henderson or Allison Dalton at (803) 656-2101 or write either of them at PO Box 31, Clemson, SC 29633.

This is a good opportunity to do something for Clemson that will make a big difference forever.

Condominiums Northlake HOLFPIRKE

Developers: Roy B. Jeffcoat
Kenneth R. Jeffcoat

Architect: Robert Goodson

Northlake Condominiums make luxurious lakefront living affordable. The latest in modern architecture joins with the natural beauty of Lake Hartwell to create a unique housing alternative, or the perfect weekend retreat.

Each of the two and three bedroom units is energy efficient, with maximum insulation. Every unit includes thermal windows, high efficiency heating and cooling systems, modern appliances and a patio. Additionally, many units have such special features as skylights, solariums, fireplaces, whirlpools and saunas.

The development also features a central clubhouse, tennis courts and a swimming pool. The clubhouse contains a fitness area with weight machines, sauna, whirlpool and steam room. Northlake Condominiums represent waterfront living at its best. And most affordable.

Satisfaction Guaranteed Or Your Money Back

Whatever you buy at Sears, you have the right to use it for a reasonable time before you determine it is satisfactory and decide to keep it. If you decide it is not satisfactory, return it to us at our expense. We will do whatever is necessary to correct the cause of your dissatisfaction.

If we can't satisfactorily provide a remedy, or if you request a refund, we will refund your full purchase price including any appropriate delivery charges, finance charges and applicable taxes.

Sears Pledge of Fairness

If, after you have decided to keep your purchase, it doesn't give you the service or performance you reasonably expect of it and there isn't a specific written warranty on the item that will satisfactorily correct the problem, please let us know.

We want to make an adjustment that you will consider fair.

You Can Count On Sears

You can count on Sears for satisfaction

Satisfaction guaranteed or your money back is a promise Sears has lived by for half a century. Other things you can still count on at Sears: fair prices, good workmanship, wide selection, competent service.

You pay good money at Sears. In return, Sears believes that you should be completely satisfied with everything you buy.

You must be satisfied with performance, quality of workmanship, fit, styling—even color. Suppose you buy a blue sweater through the catalog and the blue strikes you as different, however slightly, from the blue on the printed page.

Says Sears catalog: "In such a case, as with everything we sell, we guarantee your satisfaction or your money back."

Sears goes to extraordinary lengths to make certain that you will be satisfied. For instance:

1. Men and women from Sears spend thousands of hours a year at factories that make Sears products.

These men and women are called buyers, but they do a lot more than place orders. They study the needs and desires of Sears customers—and work personally with manufacturers to make certain that Sears products perform as expected.

2. The Sears Laboratory tests over 10,000 products a year.

Sears maintains one of the world's largest private laboratories for testing consumer goods. It tests for strength, durability, handling, and performance.

3. Sears employs engineers to help manufacturers improve their efficiency.

This is one of many steps Sears takes to help hold down costs. Others include an almost fanatically efficient distribution system.

Example: Refrigerator door handles are left off refrigerators for shipment to Sears stores. With door handles tucked neatly into cartons instead of sticking out, each carton can be a little smaller, Sears can get more refrigerators on each truck—and the shipping cost for each refrigerator goes down a few cents.

Dozens of small efficiencies like this explain why Sears regular prices are so reasonable, and Sears sale prices such terrific bargains.

So it's first to Sears for millions of shoppers—more than shop at any other store. These millions have found again and again that they are likely to spot exactly what they're looking for at Sears, to pay a fair price for it—and to be completely satisfied with it once they get it home.

There's more for your life at SEARS

◀ Satisfaction Guaranteed or Your Money Back has been firm Sears policy for over half a century. The words on this plaque stand behind every purchase by every Sears customer.

You can use Marvess® Olefin yarn for more fabrics than you thought... for less money than you think.

As the most extensive product line in terms of colors and deniers, Phillips Marvess olefin multifilament yarn sets the standard for the upholstery industry. But this technically superior yarn also has a wide variety of other fabric applications.

Fabrics for window curtains, shower curtains, drapes, mattress ticking, indoor/outdoor furniture covering, bedspreads. The list goes on and on.

So do the benefits of using this strong, yet lightweight yarn. For example, Marvess olefin has the lowest specific gravity of any fiber, which reduces the number of ends and picks needed per square inch. Thus it produces more yards per pound of fabric. And that means big savings to you.

Our non-allergenic, fade-resistant yarn also has extremely low moisture absorption, so less energy is required in the drying process—which means additional savings. And because of its high strength, wet or dry, fabrics don't need to be overconstructed.

Last, but certainly not least, Phillips Fibers has the largest plant capacity in the U.S. devoted exclusively to producing textile olefin filament yarns for the home furnishings industry. And the price is competitive, but then, that's what you'd expect from one of the performance companies.

For more information and service that's second to none, contact Olefin Fibers Marketing, Phillips Fibers Corporation, P.O. Box 66, Greenville, SC 29602. Call: 803/242-6600.

Today's Band Feature

By David Webb

It is called by several names — Armageddon, the War, the Rivalry, the Battle for Braggin' Rights, etc. The list goes on and on. Each person has their own special name for this awaited event. This is the Clemson-Georgia game.

For the first time in several years, the Tigers' home opener is not their season opener. Consequently, the Tiger Band has already been initiated in 1985. However, for many Clemson fans, this will be their first time seeing their band in action. The 260-member 1985 Tiger Band has been rehearsing since the sultry days of August. Dr. Bruce F. Cook, director, and Dr. Richard E. Goodstein, assistant director, have once again returned to conduct the ensemble composed of 98 woodwinds, 95 brass, 29 percussionists, 26 flags, two twirlers, and four equipment personnel and alternates.

Drum majors of the 1985 Tiger Band are Cindy Morris and Jim McKenrick. Morris, who also served as a drum major last year, is a senior from Greenville majoring in nursing. McKenrick, a senior from Rock Hill, is majoring in computer engineering.

Tiger Band will get things rolling today prior to kickoff with its traditional pregame show, starting with "Sock It To 'Em," the Orange Bowl March, and "Tiger Rag" while spelling out the word "Tigers."

Today's guests of honor dotting the "i" in "Tigers" will be Dr. and Mrs. Chris Sieverdes.

Dr. Sieverdes teaches in Clemson University's Department of Sociology, and is the recipient of the 1985 Alumni Master Teacher Award. A native of Lynchburg, Virginia, Sieverdes received his bachelor's degree from the University of Richmond, his master's degree from Virginia Commonwealth University, and his doctorate from Mississippi State University. Sieverdes specialized in the area of criminology, and serves as the university's criminal justice advisor as well as an assistant professor. Sieverdes has taught at Clemson for the past nine years.

The pregame show continues with Tiger Band's rendition of "You're A Grand Old Flag"; "America The Beautiful", directed by Richard E. Goodstein and accompanied by the Clemson University Chorus; "The Star-Spangled Banner", directed by Bruce F. Cook; and the Clemson University Alma Mater, directed by William W. Campbell. The colors will be presented by Pershing Rifles Company C-4, Christopher R. York, Color Guard Commander. The invocation will be offered by the Reverend David Sinclair of the Clemson Presbyterian Church in America.

As the teams catch their breath during halftime, the University of Georgia Redcoat Marching Band will open today's halftime show. Under the direction of Mr. Dwight Satterwhite, UGA's 300-piece band will

Clemson University Alma Mater

Where the Blue Ridge yawns its greatness,
Where the Tigers play,
Here the sons of dear old Clemson Reign Supreme always.

CHORUS

Dear old Clemson, we will triumph
And with all our might
That the Tigers' roar may echo
O'er the mountain height.

offer either "A Tribute to Count Basie", a collection of works composed by that big band great, or "Music From the Group Chicago", featuring a medley of some of Chicago's classics. The Redcoat Marching Band will close saluting the 'Dawg fans in Death Valley, playing the Georgia fight song, "Glory To Ole Georgia", while spelling out Georgia.

Following that, Tiger Band will come on the scene with its show, "Music From The Movies." Clemson's band will make its entrance with "The March" from Raiders of the Lost Ark, arranged by Edward J. Madden. Memories of Julie Andrews may be stirred as Tiger Band features its flags and twirlers in "My Favorite Things" from The Sound of Music. David Slagel, a senior from Savannah, GA, will be featured with a trombone solo in "Over the Rainbow", that Julie Garland sensation from The Wizard of Oz. Tiger Band concludes its halftime presentation by saluting Clemson fans worldwide with "The Song That Shakes The Southland", Tiger Rag!

This week, Tiger Band would like to salute its 1985-86 Band Staff. The Band Staff is responsible for getting those "everyday things" done. Richard E. Goodstein said about the staff, "These people are great. When we (Dr. Cook and Dr. Goodstein) ask them to do something, they usually already have it done." Members of this year's band staff include James Summer, Kyle Tatum, Kimberly Bates, Bradley Blank, Margaurite McClam, Fiona Davidson, Chris Hurlebaus, Cindy Lytle, Allen Nauright, Donna Lisenby, Lori Blankenship, Tracy Ivester, Mark Biering, Jenny Frampton, Beth Stewart, Robin Berry. The band announcer returning once again will be the renowned Nick Peck.

Other activities this weekend included the annual First Friday Parade, Sponsored by the Central Spirit Committee and Pi Kappa Alpha social fraternity, the theme of this year's parade was "Dog Day Afternoon." Following the parade, a pep rally was held in the amphitheatre and a concert was given by The Producers last night.

The 1985-86 Tiger Band Staff assists in the everyday operations of the band.

Tigers In The Crowd

By Kassie Kessinger

Eric Eichmann
Margate, FL

Back to help the Clemson soccer team defend its national crown is two-time All-ACC player Eric Eichmann. The 5-10, 150-pounder plays in the midfield and the striker position for the '85 Tigers.

His total of 28 points, with eight goals and 12 assists, made him the third-leading scorer for the national champions and ranked him eighth among the conference scorers. Overall Eichmann's 12 assists placed second best on the team and in the conference. Last year as a sophomore, Eichmann scored winning goals against Connecticut, USC-Spartanburg, and N.C. State (regular season) and he assisted on winning goals against Winthrop, Alabama A&M, and UCLA (NCAA playoffs). As a rookie in 1983, he was a first-team All-ACC selection and named MVP of the Clemson Invitational. He also received a vote for ACC Player-of-the-Year, quite an accomplishment for a freshman.

Jason Griffith
Orangeburg, SC

Griffith, 19, is Clemson's top returning player for Coach Larry Penley's golf squad. He was one of two freshmen last season who played in the NCAA Tournament for the Tigers. His 74.17 season average was the best ever by a Clemson freshman. A left-handed golfer, Griffith registered two outstanding top 10 finishes as a rookie when he was fifth at the South Carolina Invitational and fourth at the Iron Duke Classic. The 5-8, 145-pound sophomore played in every tournament except one as a freshman. He carded a pair of 69s for his best rounds of the season in two different tournaments. His 232 total in the NCAA Championship tied him with senior Jim Macfie for team high honors, while he tied for Clemson's second best finisher at the ACC Tournament. A former South Carolina State Junior Champion, Griffith is majoring in administrative management.

Richard Matuszewski
Hopewell Junction, NY

Matuszewski, 21, is the sole returning senior for Chuck Kriese's top 10 Tiger tennis team. The 6-1, 160-pound All-American is coming off a tremendous summer in which he was a member of the U.S. Junior Davis Cup team. Recently he competed in the U.S. Open Tennis Tournament in Flushing Meadow, NY. After defeating three players in the qualifying round, Matuszewski beat former top 10 player Steve Denton in the first round before being eliminated in the second round. Last season was a benchmark year for Matuszewski as he teamed with Brandon Walters to win the ITCA National Indoor Doubles Championship. He also was the only Clemson tennis player to earn All-America honors in both singles and doubles. Matuszewski reached the quarter-final round in both the singles and doubles of the NCAA tournament.

Joy Fleming
Freedom, PA

Fleming, 19, is a second-year player for the Lady Tiger volleyball squad. She earned a starting position after her first four games as a rookie and is one of the more experienced players on this year's young team. The 5-8 native of Freedom, PA wrapped up her initial campaign as the club's second best server with over 35 service aces. She is a strong blocker and hitter, especially from the middle hitter's slot. One of several current Clemson athletes who attended Ambridge High School, where she was recipient of the school's best all-around senior female athlete. Fleming lettered four years in basketball, softball and volleyball and led her prep volleyball squad to four conference titles and a third-place finish in Pennsylvania. Born March 4, 1966, Fleming is majoring in parks, recreation, and tourism management.

Pam Hayden
North Vernon, TN

Hayden, 19, returns for her sophomore season with the Lady Tiger swim team following a sensational rookie campaign in which she earned double All-America honors and captured a pair of ACC swimming titles. The 5-9 native of North Vernon, TN, won the conference 500 freestyle event and was a member of the championship 800 free relay. A three-event qualifier at the NCAA, Hayden placed 10th in the country in the 500 freestyle to earn All-America honors. She placed 13th in the 200 freestyle and the 200 butterfly as well. In addition to holding school records in the above three events, she also was a member of three relay teams last season, 800 freestyle, 400 medley and 400 freestyle, which set new school records. The former prep All-American was an Olympic Trial qualifier a year ago in the 200 butterfly. Hayden is majoring in microbiology.

Martin Flynn
Longford, Ireland

Flynn, 21, is one of Clemson's top returning cross country and track athletes. The 5-11, 135-pound senior earned all-district with his team-best 10th place finish, and he helped the Tigers to a national finish of 13th when he placed 48th at the '84 NCAA Championships. It was the best run by a Clemson harrier. In track, Flynn was the conference champion in the 5,000 meters and he went on to represent the Tigers in the indoor nationals 3,000 meter and the outdoor 5,000. Heading into the '85 campaign he will try to eclipse his current best times of 3:51 in the 5,000 meters and an 8:37 in the two mile. Flynn is aiming towards a degree in administrative management.

The Last Word

By Bob Bradley

Someone recently asked Walter Cox if he had spent his entire life at Clemson and Cox answered, "Not yet."

And he was just about right.

Because it was 50 years ago the first day of this month that Cox first set foot on the Clemson campus as a scared 16-year-old freshman. If someone had asked him where the president's office was, he probably wouldn't have had the answer. And if his upper-classmen had told him to go find the president's office, he probably would have decided it was a lot easier to just go back home to Belton.

Now, he sits in that plush chair with the burden of making the decisions that have a bearing on the lives of thousands of students, faculty and staff. It's only a temporary position for Cox, that of being university president, but be it acting, interim or the real McCoy, the buck still stops at that second floor office in Sikes Hall regardless of who is in the chair.

If there were ever a national contest of "coming-up-through-the-ranks," Cox should be the winner hands down because he started climbing that ladder in 1940. That's the year he was hired as an assistant football coach by Frank Howard. "We paid him $150 a month," Howard recalled recently, "but I'm not so sure he was worth that."

Leading up to that first job was an athletic career with the Tigers. Howard and Coach Joe Davis recruited Cox, "although there wasn't all that much to recruiting back then," Cox remembers. "I got a $100 a year (grant-in-aid), which was about a 25 per cent scholarship. I had a full scholarship my fifth year (1939), after being red-shirted between my freshman and sophomore years."

Playing and beating Tulane in 1939 when the Green Wave was a national power, then going to the Cotton Bowl were two athletic highlights for Cox. But not being able to play against Boston College in Dallas because of a hurt knee "was a big disappointment." In the regular season game against Navy, Cox intercepted a pass to shut off a potential touchdown. "It was one of the most satisfying things that happened to me as a player."

Line coach, football ticket manager and baseball coach (five years) were Cox's three major positions with the athletic department for over 10 years. He then moved (1951) into administrative work as assistant to the president and director of public relations and alumni affairs. When administrative organization came in 1955, Cox was chosen vice president for student affairs, a post he held until being named acting university president July 1st of this year.

Asked if he ever regretted getting out of coaching and going into administrative work, Cox said, "No, because I've been able to enjoy all of the positive things a coach does and didn't have to go through those long recruiting trips and those cold days at practice."

Quizzed about how he wanted to be remembered at Clemson, Cox studied about a minute and said: "As having provided some input in the educational experience that the students can look back on through the years and say 'that has been worthwhile and helpful and has meant something to me as I moved through life.'"

Cox knows his days are numbered as acting president. He knew that when he took the job. But in the interim, he is working with the university Board of Trustees, the faculty senate, top administrative personnel, and other key people, to make sure that Clemson's everyday problems are met with the full support of everyone.

"I think lack of communication between individuals and departments have caused some recent problems," he said. "Hopefully, we can re-establish these communication lines and have the ship on an even keel when the new president takes over."

Cox observed his 67th birthday day before yesterday, but he hasn't tipped his hand publicly when he might retire.

He recently participated in his first graduation where he performed duties as president. "One young man came across the stage to receive his diploma (from me) and shake hands. He looked me straight in the eye and said, 'Gosh, I love Clemson.' That's probably my most satisfying brief moment I ever had at Clemson."

Such experiences just might keep Walter Cox at Clemson another 50 years.

Crossing the Threshold of New Horizons

Leadership. Yeargin is in the forefront of high technology construction for tomorrow's industry... from precision laser equipment alignment procedures and clean room installations to automated welding systems.

For a glass optic fibers facility, we designed and constructed one of the nation's first self-contained mobile Class 100 clean rooms for preinstallation welding, bending, and cleaning of high-purity stainless piping. Yeargin had to meet precision equipment installations with job-required tolerances of .0001 millimeters.

Additionally, utilizing orbital welding techniques, we set new industry fabrication and installation standards under clean room conditions encompassing 300 production machines at a microchip circuit board facility.

Being a leader in the construction industry for carbon fibers, electronics, nuclear power, pharmaceuticals, pulp and paper, and foods is a position to which Yeargin is accustomed. Quality construction... On time... And within budget.
